IOWA REPUBLICANS.

Governor and Lieutenant-Governor Renominated.

Other Nominations---Account of Proceedings.

Platform Favors Protection and Temperance.

DES MOINES, June 27.—The republican state convention was called to order and Hon. John A. Kasson made temporary chairman. Mr. Kasson on taking the chair very briefly reviewed the successful management of the republican party for twenty years in the nation and in Iowa. He said that whatever may be the honest differences of opinion on some points, on two things all Iowa republicans were agreed, viz.: Opposition to free trade and free alcohol. Mr. Kasson was frequently interrupted by cheers.

At the afternoon session, D. B. Henderson was made permanent chairman, and Senator James F. Wilson chairman of the committee on resolutions.

Mr. Henderson was escorted to the chair and made a speech pledging the party to homes as against saloons and to home industries as against the influence of British gold and power. His speech was enthusiastically applauded.

One of the vice presidents was Madison Rhodes, of Nebraska, a former slave, who had been sold on the block.

Buren R. Sherman was renominated for governor; O. H. Manning was renominated for lieutenant governor; Professor Akers, of Linn, was renominated for superintendent of public instruction; all by acclamation.

The convention then proceeded to an informal ballot for supreme judge: McDella 262, Reed 207, Ruddick 53, Reinger 13, C. H. Lewis 23, Day 133, W. S. Jay 15, E. L. Cooley 16.

At this point Governor Sherman and Lieutenant Governor Manning were presented and returned thanks in eloquent terms for the honor of renomination.

The convention then proceeded to the first formal ballot for supreme judge. Before the ballot was concluded counties began changing for Reed and it became apparent that he was the successful candidate and a motion to nominate him by acclamation was ruled out of order. On motion the rules were suspended and Judge Reed declared the nominee of the convention by acclamation.

The platform reported through Senator Wilson is quite lengthy. The first resolution, reviews the past record of the party. Temperance is dealt with in the following two planks:

Second—That while we extend earnest sympathy to the people of all countries who are struggling for their rights in opposition to oppressive laws and systems, we also plant ourselves on the side of the homes of our own people in their contest against the saloon; that when the republican party of Iowa pledged itself in 1879 to give to the people at a special non-partisan election an opportunity to vote on the proposition to so amend the constitution of the state as to prohibit the manufacture and sale as a beverage of intoxicating liquors its good faith, and special election of June 1882 gave evidence of the redemption of the pledge so given, and we now declare that we accept the result of that election with its majority of 29,974 votes in favor of the adoption of the amendment so voted on as a verdict of the people in favor of a constitutional and statutory prohibition, and without making any new test of party fealty we recognize a moral and political obligation which requires the enactment of such laws by the next general assembly as shall provide for the establishment and enforcement of the principle and policy affirmed by the people at said non-partisan election, and to that end the faith of the party is pledged.

Other resolutions of general interest are as follows:

Fourth—That the power to regulate state commerce belongs to the general assembly and that which relates to inter-state commerce to congress, and both should be so exercised as to establish a just equilibrium between producers, transporters and consumers, and all arbitrary discriminations, pools and combinations to prevent competition or work injustice to communities or individuals at either competing or non competing points should be prohibited and such prohibition enforced.

Fifth—That the general assembly at its next session should enact a law against giving or receiving by public officers of any railway pass during their terms of office and the same should be enforced by proper penalties against both givers and receivers.

Sixth—That stability is desirable in such public policy as relates to and affects all productive industries, and we condemn the threat of the Iowa democracy to disturb and keep at unrest said industries and the capital and labor employed therein by gradual and persistent efforts to so change the customs law as to establish free trade, and insist upon such revenue laws as will encourage American industries and protect American labor in order that the American workingman shall have a fair day's wages for a fair day's work and tend to insure permanent employment.

Seventh—That the inability of the democratic party during the six years it held undisputed control of the house of representatives of congress to agree on legislation for the revision of the tariff and reform of the civil service, notwithstanding both subjects were constantly and prominently present in its platforms and promises and the passage of laws effecting both of said objects by the republican congress at its late sessions, demonstrates the lack of capacity in the former to deal with questions of great public concern and that the country must rely on the latter for practical legislation.

Other resolutions favor the creation by congress of a department of industry and improvement of water-ways; favor repeal of the time clause in the application of the soldier for pensions, and exemption of soldiers' pension money homestead from execution. The tenth resolution favors amendments to the state criminal codes; eleventh asks legislation for protection of miners in the pursuit of their dangerous avocation and, for equitable adjustments of differences between employers and employees; the twelfth refers with pride to the fact that Iowa is free from debt and under light taxation, and endorses the administration of Governor Sherman. The platform concludes as follows:

Thirteenth—That the wise, conservative administration of President Arthur meets with the hearty approval of republicans of Iowa and all cordially approve the promise pledging him to the delegation appointed by the Philadelphia convention of Irish-American citizens that the subject of grievance contained in the resolution of that body presented to him should have thorough and exhaustive investigation and such action as the government may lawfully take.

The reading of the platform was constantly interrupted by applause. The temperance plank was particularly cheered and re-cheered. At the conclusion of the reading it was adopted by a unanimous vote with renewed applause. Senator Wilson was called on for a speech but responded only in brief words of congratulations and cheer. The convention adjourned with three cheers for the platform and ticket.

Missouri Prohibitionists

WARRENSBURG, Mo., June 27.—The annual session of the prohibitionists of Missouri convened here yesterday. It was called to order by Dr. John Brooks, of St. Louis, president of the state alliance. A large number of delegates were present. Among letters of regret one was received from ex-Governor B. Gratz Brown. President Brooks in his annual address reviewed the conditions which worked failure to the movement last year for securing submission to the people of the question of a constitutional amendment. He urged more earnest union as a necessity, for adequate funds with which to put active men in the field, and counseled against any organization as a political party; that this movement should be in the interest of prohibition regardless of political views. A committee on resolutions was appointed and after several brief addresses the convention adjourned. In the evening Hon. M. V. B. Bennett delivered an address before a crowded house. The session to-day promises to be interesting.

Minnesota Republican Nominations.

ST. PAUL, June 27.—The republican convention assembled to-day. C. D. Gilfillen was made permanent chairman. Gov. Hubbard was renominated by acclamation. A resolution was introduced condemning the action of those republican legislators who refused to vote for Windom as senator after he had received the caucus nomination last winter. This was laid on the table, 148 to 92.

The platform approves the river and harbor bill and re-enactment by congress of the arrears of pensions clause.

C. A. Gilman was nominated for lieutenant governor on the second ballot; Fred von Baumbach for secretary of state by acclamation; Chas. Kittleson, treasurer; W. J. Hahn, attorney general; J. H. Baker, railroad commissioner.

New Hampshire's Senatorial Fight.

CONCORD, N. H., June 27. The ballot for United States senator at noon resulted as follows: Whole number 323; necessary to choice, 163. Gilman Marston 14, Aaron F. Stevens 18, Jas F. Briggs 30, J. W. Patterson 84, Edward H. Rollins 105. Harvey Bingham 116. Rollins, Stevens, Marston and Patterson each gained one from yesterday's vote.

Sports Scandalized.

LONDON, June 27.—The London sporting society has been greatly scandalized ever since Peck won the Orange cup at Ascot. It is said Peck felt so sorry to learn that the Prince of Wales lost heavily by betting against the winner that he tried to make amends for his own good luck by compensating his royal highness for his heavy losses in presenting the prince with the very valuable cup as a gift. To make matters worse it was alleged that the Prince of Wales accepted it and had it sent home. The story has become the talk of the town and it became necessary for the prince's friends to make some explanation and this came to-day and it has been given out that although his royal highness does at present possess the cup won on the turf by another man and a rival in the successful race he did not obtain it as a gift, but paid for it with £600 hard cash. This explanation has made matters much worse and there is some talk of having both Peck and the prince disciplined according to turf edicts for dealing in prizes. The prince's friends claim the cup was at first offered to him as a gift and that he indignantly declined it; and that finding Peck was bent on securing some royal recognition in exchange for the prize accepted it finally for the purpose of preventing it reaching a market, and subsequently sent Peck a check for the £600. The fact that Peck got the check cashed is pointed to as proof that the Prince of Wales bought the cup.

Operation of the Scott Law

CINCINNATI, June 27.—The final day for the collection of tax on liquor and beer saloons, assessed under the "Scott law," was postponed some time ago by the county commissioners till July 1st, so that there now remain but three days to complete payments without penalty. As soon as the constitutionality of the law became known yesterday saloon keepers began payment, and $80,000 were paid before night. To-day the rush was greater and to-night the total paid is slightly over $200,000. The total tax will be over $300,000. Saloon men very generally acquiesce.

A Railroad Levied On.

HARRISBURG, June 27.—The state auditor yesterday levied on all the rolling stock of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at this place, and awaiting the arrival of the ten a. m. freight and passenger train levied upon an engine, seven freight cars and one passenger car, to satisfy a claim of $20,000 due the state for back taxes. The road denies the liability and will endeavor to obtain an injunction to-day.

GENERAL MATTERS.

Crook Explains His Course with Apache Prisoners.

Official Correspondence Concerning Pauper Immigration.

General Butler at the Alumni Dinner of Harvard.

Correspondence With Crook.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The following correspondence has taken place between General Drum and Crook relative to the report that the captured Apaches had been forced on the reservation at San Carlos:

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, June 25.

General George Crook, Commander Department of Arizona:

The secretary of the interior has shown the secretary of war a dispatch from Agent Wilcox, saying the renegades were forced on the reservation the 27th instant. As the secretary of war in his dispatch of the 15th gave special directions to keep the prisoners apart from the Indians who continued peaceful, he supposed of course the agent is incorrect in his statement, but if his orders in this respect have been misunderstood he desires to repeat the instructions of June 18th and have them fully carried out.

[Signed] R. C. DRUM, Adjutant General.

WHIPPLE BARRACKS, June 26.

Adjutant General of the Army, Washington:

The report that the Chiricahuas have been forced on the San Carlos agency is incorrect. The facts are that those who had surrendered were sent forward under guard of four companies of cavalry and the Indian scouts, my orders to Captain Crawford being that the Chiricahuas should be kept with the scouts until other arrangements were made. The Chiricahuas who went after their families told me they would join the command at the line, or should we have gone too fast then they would follow along the mountains and come in at San Carlos. We have no means of communicating with them until they come in at the agency. If first arrivals find those who started back with us with the scouts we destroy all chances of ever reducing them to a state of peace. The San Carlos Indians are in no danger of being contaminated by contact with them. As a matter of humanity I am anxious to get in the last of this band, so as to leave no doubt of the recovery of the captive boy.

[Signed] GEO. CROOK, Brigadier General.

Pauper Immigration.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Following is a copy of correspondence, conducted by telegraph between the secretary of the treasury and the collector of customs at New York in regard to pauper immigration:

NEW YORK, June 26th, 1883.

To Hon. C. J. Folger, secretary of the treasury.

The commissioners of immigration notify me of the arrival per steamer Furnessia after they are landed of sixty-six families from Ireland. The commissioners don't certify whether the immigrants are able to take care of themselves but that they are from poor houses, passage paid by the British government and nearly all heads of families furnished with drafts for small amounts. The persons having been landed, please instruct me what action, if any, I shall take under the law. The immigrants are being detained by the commissioners.

[Signed.] W. H. ROBERTSON, Collector.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, June 26, 1883.

Collector of Customs, New York:

Though it is inferable from the reports of the commissioners that the immigrants spoken of in your telegram to-day are within the purview of section 2, act of August, '82, the section gives you jurisdiction only when the commissioners report conclusions as well as facts. Refer the case back to them for their judgment whether these persons are unable to care for themselves without becoming public charge. If the commissioners report affirmatively put the persons back on the vessel and do not permit them to land. If negatively or if they decline to report their conclusion let the immigrants depart.

[Signed] C. J. FOLGER, Secretary.

Secretary Folger said on this subject that the act of August '82 provides that the secretary of the treasury may enter into contracts with a state commission or board to be designated by the governor of a state and put on the body so chosen the duty of examining into the condition of passengers arriving by sea. The government of New York has designated the commissioners of immigration at the port of New York to act in that capacity for the state of New York and arrangements are made with them to execute the law. They have been instructed in case they find an immigrant unable to take care of himself without becoming a public pauper to report the same in writing to the collector of customs and such person will not be permitted to land.

Butler at Harvard.

BOSTON, June 27.—Gov. Butler and Lieut. Gov. Ames, left for Harvard college this morning with members of his staff and the National Lancers for escort. The governor was driven in an elegant barouche drawn by six horses. He was dressed in citizen's clothes.

Governor Butler preserved a passive and dignified demeanor throughout the exercises and joined in the applause accompanying the award of LL. D. to General Walker and Dr. E. Ellis.

At the alumni dinner the toast of the commonwealth of Massachusetts was announced by the presiding officer, who said, "I call upon his excellency, the governor, to respond, and I bespeak for him your careful attention."

This was received with applause and cheers. As the governor arose the applause continued and was renewed. The governor said he regretted to his great misfortune that he could not address the company as brethren of the alumni. What little education he got was in a far humbler institution. His earliest recollection of Harvard was in '34, when he came down to see commencement and turned home saddened and almost friendless, feeling deeply his inability to gratify the wish that he might be one of those just entering the college course. Referring then to the history and work of the institution the general paid it a warm tribute, which was frequently interrupted by applause. After dwelling on the benefits the state received from the university General Butler made the only reference of the day to the refusal of the overseers to confer the honorary LL.D upon him. He said allusions had been made to the fact that the men of Harvard were among the first that went to the war of the rebellion. "Yes; I know that; nobody knows that better than I do, and Harvard has done one thing to-day which I felt after the kind reception you have given me, all thought of unkindness toward her would wipe it all away. [Tremendous applause and cheers.] Forty years ago I entered the military service of Massachusetts. Soon after I became an officer of a regiment of Massachusetts. In that regiment was Rev. Mr. Babbidge, its chaplain, on whom your college has this day conferred the well-won and well-deserved degree of doctor of divinity." (Applause) Three cheers for Babbidge were given that gentleman rising and bowing. The governor closed with a warm tribute to Harvard men who took part in the war. At the close the applause and cheers were long continued.

Adulteration of Tea.

NEW YORK, June 27. Davies, tea appraiser, has completed inspection of a cargo of teas brought to this country by the Flintshire and found that a large proportion of it is grossly adulterated. He to-day presented his report to the collector showing that he had rejected 3,100 packages which, if they came in the market, might have realized about $23,000. These teas consisted of greens of all colors, sizes and descriptions, some of which were mixed with sand, sloom with gravel, others were composed of exhausted leaves and still others being composed of dirt and paste rolled into pellets. About 500 packages of colored Japan dust were also rejected on the grounds of high color and a mixture of mineral substances intended to make the tea heavier. This tea was also brought to this country by water on board the Flintshire. The collector and appraisers of the port of St. Louis have forwarded to Davies samples of so-called teas, sent to that city by way of San Francisco. Examination has clearly shown that the "stuff" was only mild leaves indiscriminately collected and dried and sent to this country to be palmed off as tea. This was intended to be sent to paris of the country remote from regular markets and there disposed of as ten regardless of the fact that whether or not it injures consumers. Davies said this morning that the new crop now arriving overland appeared to be of good quality.

The Virginia Duelists

WASHINGTON, June 27.—It was reported at a late hour last night that Elam and Beirne the Richmond duelists, were in this vicinity and would fight at sunrise this morning within ten miles of the city. As nothing has been heard from the front and the weather is stormy it is presumed the encounter has been postponed.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The Daily News' Charleston, W. Va., special says: Beirne, one of the Richmond editors, was seen at Ronceverte this morning accompanied by friends, and it is thought his hostile meeting with Elam is about to occur.

Mexican Mails.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Arrangements have been completed between the postoffice department and the republic of Mexico for overland exchange of mail between the offices of San Diego, Cala., and Lijuana, Mexico, to commence the first proximo. Exchange for the present will be semi-monthly and mails sent from San Diego should include all correspondence for Lijuana and Real Del Castillo, and that for other destinations in Lower California may also be forwarded in the exchange if specially addressed to Garin, per San Diego Cala.

High License in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 27.—It has been discovered that the saloon ordinance passed by the city council to effect an escape from the Harper high-license bill for a period of six months, is defective. The reason is the fact that it grants a license for six days longer than the municipal year. A special meeting of the city council will be held to-morrow evening to remedy the defect if possible, but the situation is made worse by the assertion that 3,000 saloon keepers will be compelled to once again procure licenses.

Slaughter of Chinamen.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 26. The Oregonian has special advices to-night giving the particulars of a collision on the Northern Pacific at Huron station. A gravel train of fifteen cars was run into by a construction train. George Pike, engineer of the gravel train, and twenty-three Chinamen were killed and fifteen wounded. The accident was the result of gross carelessness.

Riflemen in England.

QUEENSTOWN, June 27. The American rifle team arrived this morning in excellent health and spirits. They will proceed to Liverpool accompanied by Sir Henry Halford and Mr. Waller, of the British team, who met them here. A warm reception will be given them on their arrival by a committee of citizens headed by the mayor.

An Abortionist Sentenced.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27. Dr. Isaac J. Hathaway, in the cellar of whose residence the remains of many infants were found buried, was convicted of having performed criminal surgical operations on a servant girl in April '81 and sentenced to $700 fine and imprisonment of seven years, the fullest extent of the law.

Wasson's Sentence.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The president has approved the finding and full sentence of the court martial in Wasson's case. An order will be issued from the war department to-morrow officially announcing his sentence, which is to be dismissed from the army and to be confined at hard labor for 18 months in some prison to be selected hereafter.

THE FLOODS.

Annual Rise Reported in the Upper Missouri.

Heaviest Rain for Years Throughout Pennsylvania.

Swells the Rivers and Does Much Damage.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—Word comes from East St. Louis this morning that the river continues to fall slowly and in all that section of country west of the Chicago & Alton railroad track. At Newport, Nameoki and Mitchell the water has fallen nearly if not quite a foot, but in that part of the bottom east of the above-named road into which a steady stream is still pouring through the crevasse near Newport.

Computations based upon information derived from well-informed sources makes the number of acres of farm lands overflowed in three townships in Madison county, seven thousand acres. This land is covered with wheat, corn, oats and potatoes, which reckoned at $30 per acre (rather a low estimate) makes the actual loss to crops alone $210,000 in that section. At St. Clair county, east and south of East Carondolet, so far as is at present known, 5,400 acres of wheat, corn and potatoes.

KANSAS CITY, June 27.—The river has been on a stand since 7 last night and at St. Joseph it fell five inches during the night. No rains are reported in this region since Monday morning and strong hopes are entertained that the season of excessive rains has ceased, in which case the present flood will most likely disappear to a great extent before the June rise comes.

OMAHA, June 27. The signal office of this city, after reporting a fall of one inch in the Missouri river Monday, records a rise of seven inches Tuesday and nine inches at noon to-day.

KANSAS CITY, June 27.—The river has fallen steadily this afternoon and at 11 p. m. was about five inches lower than this morning. Sioux City reports a rise of ten inches since yesterday. A Bismarck dispatch says the June rise has appeared there, but there is no prospect of an unusual volume.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—The river has fallen five inches to day. Water at East St. Louis is also declining quite satisfactorily and the general feeling is that all danger is over. It is not believed there that the coming June rise will be heavy enough to do any further damage and no fears are felt on that account. The Chicago and Alton trestle over the crevasse near Newport was finished this afternoon and all trains due here this morning from the north and from Kansas City came across it safely. The Chicago & Alton, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Indianapolis & St. Louis and Wabash trains for the north and east passed over it to-night. This fully restores passenger traffic on all roads from St. Louis.

J. Richardson, of Venice, elected chairman of the relief committee, says the situation is growing worse daily. A great number of people are out in the country surrounded by water and unable to communicate. The committee sent out four skiffs to-day and visited every house north and east of Venice bringing to that place all those in a destitute condition.

Pennsylvania Rains.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 27.—Heavy rains of the past few days and bursting of a dam caused an extensive cave-in at the Baltimore mines. Residents in the neighborhood are alarmed.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 27. There is a disastrous storm in this county. In many cases tobacco and corn crops are ruined. Trains on the Pennsylvania road were detained owing to an embankment caving in.

HARRISBURG, June 27. The heaviest rainfall for years occurred here to-day, lasting two hours. Water chilled the furnace in one of the rolling mills, causing much delay. The Susquehanna has risen four feet since noon and is still rising.

READING, June 27.—Roads and wheat fields are badly washed by heavy rains.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 27. The Lehigh is 12 feet higher than usual. Freshet is feared; the river is rising. Persons living near by are removing to places of safety. Much damage is feared. Two hundred feet of track of the East Pennsylvania railway at Shamrock was washed out this morning and all trains delayed. Heavy land slides also are reported on the Lehigh Valley road.

PORTLAND, Pa., June 27.—A terrific shower burst over this vicinity last evening, causing widespread devastation. No trains run to Nazareth. No travel on the New York S. & W. railway above Columbia to-day. A low estimate makes the damage $40,000. Nearly all the farmers between here and Nazareth suffered. It is still raining and streams are rising. There are prospects of a flood in the Delaware.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 27. Rain falling for the past two days has done great damage to crops and causing several dams to burst. At Stroudsburg the glassworks are flooded. The Lackawanna river is steadily rising.

ASHLAND, Pa., June 27.—All work at the collieries is suspended and unless the rain ceases ten collieries in the Mahonoy valley will be flooded. Traffic on the Lehigh railway is suspended; at Shamokin all collieries are suffering.

Will Investigation.

WASHINGTON, June 27. J. M. Wilbur testified before the Hill investigating committee to-day that he had an account against the government for work done at the New York postoffice. He presented his account to Hill, who said it was all right, but he (Hill) ought to have something for settling such old claims. He referred witness to Shannon, an employee in his office, who took him aside and told him they ought to have ten per cent: for settling the bill. Witness did not assent and subsequently the claim was disallowed. The matter was considered by congress and the committee on claims, reported favorably. At the hearing before the senate committee Hill appeared and opposed the claim.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Governments strong, especially for 4s; railroads lower; state securities fairly active and firm. The stock market in the first part of the day was quiet and firm with an advance in prices of ¼ to ⅝ per cent, Wabash preferred and C. B. & Q. leading the upward movement. Among other shares conspicuous for strength were St. Paul, Denver, Michigan Central, Canada Southern, and Louisville & Nashville.

Shortly after the bears made a sharp attack on Denver, the price breaking. Sales are attributed to various operators, some saying they were for the account of a leading trader now abroad, others that they were made by the German element prominently identified with the company. This had an unsettling effect on the general list but the decline was unimportant. In the last transactions Denver rallied to 43½ and others improved slightly as compared with Tuesday's closing. Active shares are ⅛ to ⅜ per cent lower. Sales for the day 165,000.

Mining stocks to-day were dull. Sierra Grande sold 1.80 and 1.25; Navajo 3.00; Horn Silver 7.75 to 7.88; Sierra Nevada 3.10 to 3.05; Bodie 1.00; Bulwer 80 and 75 cents; Robinson Con. 55 and 58 cents, and Sierra Con. 20 cents. Sales 30,750 shares.

ARTESIAN WELLS.

Experiments to Be Made Very Soon In Colorado Springs.

Mr. W. H. Roby, chairman of the special committee appointed at the last meeting of the council to investigate into the feasibility of sinking an artesian well somewhere in the northern part of the city, has gone to Denver to look at the Anderson and opera house wells, in which water has been struck. Mayor Humphrey and Aldermen Roby and Brown have already examined the Denver wells and from what they have seen and learned they feel confident that the expenditure of money in the sinking of a well or wells here will result successfully and perhaps be the means of solving the water question in Colorado Springs.

In Denver a good flow of water has been obtained at a depth of from three to four hundred feet the pressure being sufficient to force the water to the top of a three-story building through a three-inch pipe. Prof. J. Alden Smith, state geologist, has completed an analysis of what is known as the Anderson well at Denver. He pronounces the water that flows from it as absolutely pure as could be procured from any source.

There seems a very general desire manifest among the people of Colorado Springs that the judicious expenditure of money in experimenting with artesian wells here might result in a vast amount of benefit to the town. What we want is an increase of irrigation water, not water for domestic uses, as the supply from Ruxton creek is as pure almost as could be desired. With no demand upon our waterworks system for irrigation purposes the supply for domestic use would be sufficient for a town double our present population. Some maintain that in order to reach water here a well will have to be sunk to a depth of not less than 1,000 feet or perhaps deeper. This argument is advanced on the ground that our elevation is higher than Denver and that water is bound to find its level. Others hold that on account of our close proximity to both the mountains and the divide water ought to be reached more readily than at Denver. Several engineers have in the past advanced the idea that artesian wells would prove successful in this locality and that water could be obtained at a depth of anywhere from five hundred to one thousand feet. We understand that a man who has been engaged in sinking a well at Greenland on the Divide has secured a good flow of water, and if water can be reached there why not in Colorado Springs? The members of the council favor some experiments in this direction and are inclined to go ahead with the work immediately. One thousand dollars has already been appropriated for the sinking of an artesian well and there is $2,000 more in the appropriation fund for the increase of our water supply should it be needed. It is expected that at the next meeting of the city council which takes place next Monday night steps will be taken to begin work. There is a company at Denver that stands ready to take the contract of sinking a well here at very moderate figures.

Secretary Chandler has decided to permit Frederick Smith, who was court-martialed for duplicating pay accounts, to resign. The secretary said that although Smith had been found guilty in more than one instance, he thought his actions not such as should prevent his being allowed to resign.

One thousand employes of the Bethlehem, Pa., iron company's steel mill quit work yesterday, demanding an increase of wages, which was refused.

The Scott law provides for a tax of $400 a year for the sale of all kinds of liquor and $100 a year for the sale of beer and wine. This is a very simple obstruction to the liquor traffic and the democracy ought not to consider it a tyrannical, outrageous invasion of the private rights of its members.

General Butler did not throw any bricks yesterday. His speech was remarkably shrewd and will create a great deal of sympathy for him. We are very sorry for this, for he is only a political trickster after all, and it is much pleasanter to record the mistakes than the triumphs of such men.

Our dispatches this morning state that the Chinese shoemakers of San Francisco have struck for higher wages. This should entitle them to the respect and affection of all labor reform, or protective union organizations. They are just as good as Dennis Kearney now and should be received into full fellowship by his gang.

The Iowa republican convention yesterday was enthusiastic and took a very determined stand on the temperance question. The extreme legislation in Iowa will undoubtedly cause a reaction, as it has everywhere else, but the party that is for law and order could not do otherwise than be committed to it. The other camp was not respectable.

Dispatches from New Hampshire show that Senator Rollins cannot be re-nominated. He began with 124 votes and his strength has already been reduced to 105. Ex-Senator Patterson gains and may win. Rollins is only another boss shelved. The people all over the country are determined there shall be no bosses. Logan and Cameron will soon have their turns.

Judge Hoadly has written his first card to announce that he will not withdraw because of disgust. It shows that the impression generally prevails that his nomination was unwise or there could be no reason for making such a denial. He won't victory in his nomination and as he well says ... especially is political ... not apt to be disgusted with victory.

The sentence of Wasson is severe but deserved. An army officer is supposed to prize honor above everything and the ideal should not be lowered. To have palliated Wasson's offense would have been a temptation to other paymasters with gambling propensities. The sentence is a warning and will impress army officers with the enormity of such offenses. In most civil cases Wasson would have been discharged because he restored the funds.

The Leadville Herald is also for an old-fashioned Fourth. It says "The Colorado Springs Gazette comes to the rescue of the "old fashioned Fourth of July against a recent attack upon it by the Denver News, and "champions the form of celebration so generally in vogue a few years ago in a very "spirited manner." The Gazette is right. "The reading of the declaration of Independence once a year is seldom enough and even the Fourth of July oration has its uses. Our "one distinctively national and most significant holiday cannot be too generally observed, and no worthy substitute has yet "been offered for the old fashioned celebration.

The Denver News, in the presidential estimates, shows a very amateur style in handling election returns. It takes the returns of last year, which was an off year, and considers these decisive of the politics of the different states, particularly mentioning New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio. Last year the elections only said the bosses must go. They indicated nothing whatever about the strength of the parties. No full vote was brought out. Though the democrats carried Ohio last year by 10 000 majority, they cast 00,000 less votes than Garfield received in 1880. This year will call out the full party vote and then something can be said definitely about Ohio's politics. For the information of the editor of the News we might say that New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania have gone democratic on off years for the last twenty years, just as they did last year, and yet all these states have been republican in presidential years, except New York in 1868 and 1876.

Nevertheless it should steadily be borne in mind that Arapahoe county has quite a considerable representation in the general assembly. This representation is not liable to forget kindnesses to Arapahoe nor likely to disremember insults. In other words, Arapahoe will be a factor in voting the appropriation in 188 .—[Denver Republican.

This is a notice that Arapahoe will oppose all appropriations to those counties that do not help Arapahoe in getting a million dollars for the capitol. We are glad the issue is made. But suppose the sixty outside members should vote solidly against the twelve Arapahoe members. The Republican makes a huge mistake in this threat. It says in effect that Arapahoe county will trade with other counties for the appropriation and will not vote for appropriations on their merits. This is very unfortunate and should have been concealed. The capitol appropriation will be bartered for and traded. Notice is thus served to all manipulators of "steals," that they can have Arapahoe's twelve for reciprocal favors.

CROOK AND THE INDIAN AGENT

The Denver Tribune favors the position taken by Agent Wilcox in regard to the disposition of the captured Chiricahuas. Regarding General Crook the Tribune says:

We trust that General Crook will be given full credit for the daring and excellent work which he has accomplished but would respectfully suggest that his functions are those of a warrior and that when he has succeeded in capturing the Indians he had performed his entire duty. It is not his part to say where the Indians shall go or what shall be done with them. Consequently he should tell his story and gracefully retire and leave the further work ... whose duty it is to attend to these matters. He can not make his usual plea of bad faith on the part of the government for the Chiricahuas.

We think that most people will have more faith in General Crook's judgment than in that of Agent Wilcox. General Crook thoroughly knows the Apaches and was the first man to subdue them. He gave Arizona long exemption from Indian depredations and is capable of doing so again. The slur contained in the expression that General Crook cannot make his usual plea of bad faith on the part of the government, is totally uncalled for. He has held that the government should keep its obligations with the Indians and we presume that most citizens of the United States will agree with him. In the many Indian wars that have taken place because of bad faith on the part of the government, General Crook has risked his life to protect the settlers, and stop depredations. But he has also been manly enough to see the Indian side of a needless war and deplore it. He fights only for peace and protection of the frontier, not like bloodthirsty editors at their desks for the love of shedding blood. When an Indian has been wronged and then whipped General Crook thinks the bloodshedding should cease and justice should have a chance. His gallant and hardy services in subduing Indians which have made him everywhere known as "the Indian fighter" of the army give him a peculiar right to speak on this subject.

As to the Chiricahuas, the merits of the controversy are not fully known. But in a general way it may be said that General Crook seems to understand that his business is to put a stop to the Indian outrages and give protection to the settlers in Arizona and not to be a common butcher. To do this he undertook a campaign which for danger and hardship has been unparalleled. He has succeeded in capturing a large number of the savages after giving some assurances for the future. He thinks from his experience of ten years ago that the best plan is to leave them go on a reservation until they all surrender. It is the only way to secure the surrender. The only alternative is to treat them as military prisoners which General Crook says will drive them back to the cliffs and gorges in the mountains and we shall have to fight them till the last one dies. As the experience with Nana and Victoria shows it cost the lives of a dozen soldiers to kill each Indian in such an exterminating war, besides causing the needless deaths of hundreds of settlers. It is best to think twice before entering upon it. As General Crook will have to do the fighting we submit he ought to be heard on a plan to avert it. Certainly no one will question his bravery in taking this course. Agent Wilcox's opinion ought not to weigh a feather against that of General Crook. Neither his services or experience entitle his opinion to any weight. He is an Indian agent to make money and is neither interested in the territory or Indians. We think the people of Arizona and the whole country will be with General Crook. The authorities at Washington cannot afford to side with a money getting Indian philanthropist.

Browning's Characters

The Fortnightly Review

In the delineation of character it is curious to observe how much more important and interesting the male characters are made than the female. It is over his Chiappinos, his Straffords, his Victors, his Lurias, his Djabals, that Browning spends most care and elaboration. There are few good acting parts for women in his dramas. If we take twelve of his female characters, we shall find that six (Eulalie, Polyxena, Gwendolen, Colombe, Pippa, and Lady Carlyle) are all more or less mere sketches of character, three (Ottima, Phene and Domizia) have some moral taint, and only three are carefully drawn and interesting characters, namely, Constance, Mildred and Anael. Of these three the first appears in the scene "In a Balcony," which splendidly written as it is, can hardly be called actable, owing to the slenderness of treatment, the second is the principal figure in the "Blot on the 'Scutcheon," who has entered on an intrigue with the hero before the action of the play commences; the third, Anael, though she commits murder and suicide, is undoubtedly a true, womanly and dramatic creation. It would be difficult to say what is Browning's view as to the keynote of a woman's character. If one may judge from Constance and Colombe and Anael, it would appear to be self sacrifice—the endless giving up of herself to the men. The same lesson is brought out in a somewhat unpleasing way in other passages. A moral which Browning seems rather fond of in describing the relations of man to woman is that the man is capable of loving many women, (witness 'Any Wife to any Husband,' 'James Lee's Wife,' 'Fifine at the Fair,' while the woman can only surrender herself to the one particular man. It would be interesting to know what some of the ladies who study Browning think of this very masculine moral. However slightly the women may be drawn, the male characters are almost uniformly psychological studies of great care and detail. The ... not only of the larger and more ... personalities ... but also of the subordinate. Chiappino for instance who appears in the slight sketch called "A Soul's Tragedy" is a study of the demoralization of an enlightened but selfish democrat. Tresham in the "Blot on the 'Scutcheon" is a type of the aristocrat, narrow minded but gallant, jealous of his family's honor. Prince Berthold in "Colombe's Birthday," is the cold and scheming man of ambition, who takes love as he takes everything else, as an instrument solely of successful progress. In "Luria" we have the outlines of a contrast on the one hand between two Florentines, Puccio, who though subtle is generous and Braccio, who is subtle and heartless. King Victor is one of the best creations of all—the prince who, full of the ... and dissimulation, thinks and ... thinks that a life spent in battle and diplomatic scheming can suddenly be changed to one of rural simplicity and retirement.

Beaconsfield and the Bore

Sir Ronald Gower's Reminiscences

Lord Beaconsfield was, as I have ever found him, extremely pleasant, full of quaint humor and never seemingly bored at being ... upon any subject that one ventured to put to him. However, once I felt that he ... a ... well deserved rebuke. We had been looking at some prints, one of which represented Whitehall, and I asked him if he had any doubt as to the side of the Banqueting House on which Charles I was executed. He answered me something to the following effect: "Some time ago a Tory squire had brought his two sons to see him and to receive words of advice as to their future career in political and social existence. Lastly the fond parent wanted to hear what his leader would deliver on so important a subject. 'Never,' said Lord Beaconsfield, in his most solemn tone, 'never in society ask who wrote Junius's Letters or on any account inquire on which side of the Banqueting House Charles I was beheaded, for if you do you will be voted a bore, and that is, well, something dreadful.'" He said he had seen the story in print, and unlike most of the stories in print about him this was perfectly true.

By Universal Accord,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the best ... for family use. They are the product of long laborious, and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use, by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effectual purgative Pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use. And being sugar coated they are pleasant to take. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other Pills can be compared with them, and every person, knowing their virtues, will employ them, when needed. They keep the system in perfect order and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild, searching and effectual they are especially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure if timely taken. They are the best and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild but effectual cathartic is required.

THE ONLY DISSOLVER OF THE POISONOUS URIC ACID WHICH EXISTS IN THE BLOOD OF RHEUMATIC AND GOUTY PATIENTS

SALICYLICA is known as a ... remedy, because it strikes directly at the cause of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, while so many so-called specifics and supposed panaceas only treat locally the effects.

It has been conceded by eminent scientists that outward applications, such as rubbing with oils, ointments, liniments, and soothing lotions will not eradicate these diseases which are the result of the poisoning of the blood with Uric Acid.

SALICYLICA works with marvelous effect on this acid and so removes the disorder. It is now exclusively used by all celebrated physicians of America and Europe. Highest Medical Academy of Paris reports 95 per cent. cures in three days.

REMEMBER

that SALICYLICA is a certain cure for RHEUMATISM, GOUT and NEURALGIA. The most intense pains are subdued almost instantly.

MANITOU

Notes and Personal Items.

Mr George W Kassler, of Denver, was registered at the Manitou house

Mr L S Norton, a prominent lawyer of Erie Pa was registered yesterday at the Cliff

Mr J J Ri ... family ... Denver's ... lumber dealer ... at the Manitou house

The recent washouts near-Canon City have probably affected the number of arrivals at Manitou

Captain Henry Metcalfe ... of the United States army ... registered at the Manitou yesterday

Mr L G Mattindale, a conductor on the Shandan line ... was registered at the Beebee yesterday

Mr J Dillenbeck of Denver, formerly editor of the Denver Times was registered at the Norris house yesterday

Mr George F White and Mr John A Sprague, of Colorado Springs went over to play a day or two with the new brass band.

Professor William L Dudley, of the Miami (Ohio) Medical school, went to the Peak yesterday. Howard Mr Hopkins and family will leave to-day

Mr and Mrs J H McVeigh, of Hannibal, Mo, and Mr and Mrs W G Moore, of Denver, are members of a party of seven at the Cliff house who have come to spend the summer.

Rev J A Zahm, who has just brought home the Colorado students attending the university at Notre Dame, Ind, in company with Rev Father D A Clarke, of Columbus, Ohio, is at the Manitou house Father Zahm is said to be for a young man, one of the best scholars in the country

The Manitou house now has its regular band for the season, a string band from Denver, said to be the finest in the state. The leader and flute player are the same as last season and the season before. This house is now well fitted for making attractive the hops that will be given during the season. A very pleasant one was given last evening. The Manitou house is rapidly filling up

Major Hulbert was pleasantly engaged yesterday afternoon in showing a party of gentlemen the bath house and surroundings. The bath house, though so recently opened, has already become one of the most important institutions of Manitou. People are much pleased with it and it is already paying. The hot sour baths are proving very beneficial for the rheumatism and this single fact ... Manitou more attractive and more widely known, and a constantly increasing number of people will seek health and recreation among the attractions continually added by man and the eternal natural beauties of our lovely summer resort. Major Hulbert has much reason for satisfaction in the bath house under his careful management

ROBINSON'S CIRCUS

It Will Soon be in Colorado Springs

On Saturday, July 4th, John Robinson's circus will exhibit in Colorado Springs. Of this ... an exchange says In old John Robinson's ten big new shows combined for 1885 you will see a confederation of marvels and miracles, and curiosities that has taken fifty nine years of diligent and faithful services to accumulate. Talk about the presumption of some shows calling themselves the oldest show on earth. John Robinson's big show is now on its fifty ninth annual tour, and he will give a thousand dollars to any man who can come forward and testify, on oath, that there is a single showman on earth that can show a record of nearly sixty years before the American public. One more ... only and then he will have been ... longer than the ... is, a proprietor of a combined circus and menagerie than any man in the world. John Robinson never divides ... splits up. It has been John Robinson's Big Show for fifty nine summers and winters, and the name of John Robinson's grandest, oldest, biggest and best of all the big shows will be kept green and bright before the people for years and years to come for the ... John F Robinson jr, the able manager, and a son of the grandson of the old veteran showman, who also bears the name of his grandsire, and notwithstanding the old warhorse is hale and hearty and 77 years of age, his scions will keep the name of Old John Robinson before the American people for many years to come. Remember, that there is but one John Robinson Big Show, and it will come to Colorado Springs Saturday, July 4th, as is the custom of the ... the greatest ... in the world

An Assemblage of Wonders

J J Sackett's greatest and most wonderful of shows will be here on next Saturday and will exhibit at the opera house afternoon and evening. Among the array of artists that will positively appear are the famous human miracles, Major Atom, Admiral Dot and Miss Jennie Quigley who for the past six seasons were the principal attractions with the renowned Lilliputian Opera company

The Middleton brothers, those artistic manipulators of the Imperial marionettes, presenting their funny pantomime of "Humpty Dumpty, or the Life of He Who Sat on the Wall" Miss Irene Woodward, the tattooed lady of whom Dr Oliver Wendell Holmes, of Boston says She is a living monument of the sufferings that man can inflict and woman endure, a living encyclopaedia of biblical and mythological illustrations

Prof Anncli's troupe of educated birds, marvels of learning presenting a performance of interest to old and young

Sig Pattie, the animal trainer, and troupe of trained monkeys which do everything but talk

Rhoda the 10,000 mystery, a living head without a body, talks, sings, and eats and is alive. This marvelous mystery was first produced in Egyptian Hall, London, England, creating a sensation for a period of two years

As the entertainment remains here for two performances only we advise our readers to visit it as the curious little people are now en route to Australia and will probably never return

NOTICE TO THE CITIZENS

When the recent notice in regard to the use of the city water for the purposes of irrigation was issued it was thought that the hours named therein would meet the exigency of the occasion But owing to the greatly increased use of the city water for the purposes above mentioned during the past two days it becomes necessary to further limit its use and I herewith give notice that on and after this date and until further notice, the ordinance relating thereto will be strictly enforced All citizens are earnestly enjoined to adhere to the same, as the city is in a critical state concerning our water supply and in case of the less strenuous results would inevitably follow For the information of all I give below Sec No 1 of the ordinance "Relating to the Use of Water from the Water Works for the Purposes of Irrigation J F HUMPHREY, Mayor.

COLORADO SPRINGS June 23, 1883,

Be it Ordained by the City Council of the City of Colorado Springs

OPERA HOUSE!

3 Performances Only!

SATURDAY JUNE 30TH,

Afternoon and Evening.

J. B. SACKETT'S

ASSEMBLY OF WONDERS

Just the same great Company that I presented at all my established Museums in the cities of St Louis, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Denver Are you going to see them at precisely the same prices the oldest and most curious people in the world? Should any be foolish enough to think that I cause the price of admission to be too much, I will say to one and all that it is the Biggest and Best Traveling Exhibition you ever saw at any price Read the bills as to the attractions then go and see and find fault Try to find something advertised that I do not exhibit or some feature misrepresented

J B SACKETT

Children under 12 Years to any part of the house	15 cents
Adults to Parquette or Parquette Circle	35 cents
Adults to Balcony and Gallery	25 cents

Afternoon Performance Begins at 2 o'clock; Evening at 8.15 o'clock. f28 3
